The one prize possession that was given to her during this time was a memento of her late son Michael Liptak's fingerprint on a heart medallion that brought tears of joy at his remembrance. Momma had a long life with times of struggle but her joy was in her family. She knew that her life was ebbing but was comforted in her faith in Jesus. She believed that he would take care of her and relieve her pain. She now walks beside Him a woman proud of her faith and her family.
