“ I will always treasure the moments of spending my childhood with you. My grandmother was a good woman, a dedicated wife. I can remember when I would be staying the night and sleeping downstairs with my grandmother on the davenport (couch) as she called it, in the living room where she would be close to my grandfather in case he needed something. He was in a hospital bed. there are so many cherishable memories to share but it would take a long time and a lot more space. I miss you mommom, you are always in my thoughts and my heart. I til this day still speak about you to my husband and kids.
