“ Her Journey's Just Begun

*Don't think of her as gone away-- her journey's just begun life holds so many facets this earth is only one.
Just think of her as resting from the sorrows and the tears in a place of warmth and comfort where there are no days and years.*

Think how she must be wishing that we could know today how nothing but our sadness can really pass away.

And think of her as living in the hearts of those she touched... for nothing loved is ever lost-- and she was loved so much

I will always love you, Emily. I will try to go on, but I must for our girls. My grief is so deep knowing I'll never hold my little girl again. I love you so much. Until we meet again, sweetheart. 💙

“ The first time I met Emily was on a blind date. We went to TGIF in Columbia. I waited outside and she drove up in her little red car. When she got out and walked towards me it was instant attraction.. I was like "WOW" so we sat at the bar had a few drinks and during this time she somehow got me to arm wrestle on the edge of the bar, so we goofed around like that for awhile, and had a wonderful time together. Later on she decided to tell me why she wanted to arm wrestle and it was because she just wanted to hold my hand. That is the women I fell in love with. What I would give told hold her hand right now. Rest in peace Emily, I love you
