“ Everytime I ran into Jason at work, we immediately started laughing and telling stories. He was so animated. The first day we met I realized quickly who he was, his father hired me and I worked with his brother early in my career. My condolences to the family. He will definitely be missed by his railroad family.

“ Jason had a personality and smile that were infectious! He was like another son to me! He would come into Shawn's house, throw his arms around me, give me a big ole kiss on the cheek, and holler "Hey Momma. Love ya!". Jason was one of a kind, and would do anything for you. I will truly miss him! To his family: There are no words that can express how sorry I am. I wish I could say or do something that could ease your pain. The only thing I can say is look back at the wonderful memories, and cherish them all. Know that Jason is flying with the angels, now-- God Speed, my baby, Momma. Denise Goslee

“ I bright light has been extinguished in this world and now glows brightly in the face of the LORD. Jason when I first met you and worked with you for ten years I learned that you were a funny, kind, and gentle soul. I am going to tell your story you told me and this happened I guess before your railroad career and while Daddy Joe was the train master on the shore. You told me you bought a 4 wheeler and use to jump the roads on the right of way along the railroad track. You said there was a special xing that had under cut sides of the road to really get a launch into the air. You said you could jump the entire portion of the road. You said you always paid attention to the right of way because your dad was always around and he told you, don't let me catch you on the right of way. One day you checked out the traffic on the road and made you approach and jumped high across the road only to see you dads red Ford Bronco coming down the road. At first I thought you jumped right in front of him or over him. I would of loved to seen your dads expression. I think he never knew because you sold the 4 wheeler. Well he knows now. LOL, RIP, Love you brother.

“ Jason Morris was a huge part of my life from the time I was 16 till Joe left when I was 31. So many people won't bring up the past but I say all the time, the past is what made you who you are today. It wasn't all bad or I wouldn't have spent so many years loving him. Joe leaving devastated me... It's sad, yes, but God has his reasons and I can't imagine my life now without it- in part because of that past, and I wish no ill on any of them. Jason, you will always be my brother-in-law, even after my divorce you remained kind and caring to me and never hesitated to exchange a hug and an "I love you". My thoughts and prayers go out to my extended family and especially Jason's wife Jessica Lane Morris and beautiful baby JJ : Joe, Kristen, Jennifer, Whitley, Koy, Ms. Brenda, Seth, Mia, Matthew, Chance, Kensy, Keith and Joy, members of the Delmar Fire Department , all of you.
