“ John joined our role playing group in 1996 and remained a member til the day he slipped away. We shared the same twisted sense of humor and the same talent for sarcasm, so much so that he was adopted into my family. He will always be my "little" brother and will live deep inside my heart forever. Love you, Little Bubba.

“ Amazing thing to realize that you can sincerely touch so many lives on line and never meet them. You did this John in the virtual world of on line gaming. The memories we feel while traversing Azeroth in World of Warcraft are as real to us as if we vacationed together. We shared our happiness, sorrow, and heartfelt conversations. Knowing you has made a difference. We were friends. Blessings of strength and peace to your family.

Always friends - never forgotten

“ A wonderful friend, John Williams, or as his online family knows him... "Hemo"... was one of the kindest men I've come to know. He welcomed me in to our guild with open arms. Rough around the edges, this man really showed me what it was like to have a true friend, online or not. I will miss you, Hemo. You will never be forgotten.

I, too, knew you first as Hemo. You became a friend because of your humor and personality. You will be missed by all.RIP

“ He brought joy to my entire family. This is amazing because we four are so different, yet John was able to be what we each needed. I only hope we were able to return half of what he gave. The world has lost an amazing person.

Prayers to his family.

I first met John back in 2018 when I was hired as a correctional officer with the wicomico county department of corrections. He from that day he left a huge impact on my life.
