“ Grandma was incredible. The strongest and most resilient woman I have ever known. Also the most loving and compassionate. I will forever miss sitting on her front porch at sun up, discussing anything and everything. She was known for accommodating all breakfast requests, regardless of the number of guests at her table. Pity the poor fools who dared upset her, they would never make that mistake again. Tough as nails, I believe she was in her early 60's when she was blown off the roadway, rolling her vehicle, emerging with only some glass in her hair? She lived a long and wonderful life and was loved and will be missed by all. Rest in peace grandma.

“ *My grandmother.
One distinctive individual. An avid watcher of news and self proclaimed Grey Panther, she was not one to be trifled with.*
